He said that now the court has a position that no one has control over but the District Judge. He feels like the more that the court says transparency, the less transparent they are becoming. He feels this subject should have been brought in Commissioner’s Court for the public. He thanked the court for allowing him to speak.

The court received and will file the order appointing assistant auditor from the 220th District Judge dated April 4, 2018. (Recorded in Commissioner’s Court Papers Book 59 Page 783)

Justice of the Peace, James Lively updated the court on the relocation of his office. He said that it was mentioned to him that he might use the Commissioner’s Courtroom for his personal office. Upon further inspection he confirmed it would work great for his office. The space already has phone and internet access and is adjacent to the existing Justice of the Peace office. This would also keep the Justice of the Peace office in the courthouse.

Lively said they would utilize the office he currently occupies as their receiving and payment office. They will remove the big counter from the office his clerks occupy. These changes would provide more efficient utilization of available office space, create more file storage and enhance efficiency of staff. The changes outlined above would solve a multitude of problems.

The court discussed what kind of impact this would have on the people that use the commissioner’s courtroom and the money that would be saved by not moving the Justice of the Peace offices to the annex and utilizing the commissioner’s courtroom as the office for Judge Lively would keep the entire Justice of the Peace operation in the courthouse.

It is the consensus of the court that they are all in agreement that the Justice of the Peace office will utilize the commissioner’s courtroom as outlined by Justice of the Peace James Lively.

Future Agenda Items:
  A. Consider proposals for the sale of the old Precinct 3 barn in Hico

Tynes adjourned the court at 10:02 A.M.
